SUMMARY

On May 2, 2020, at approximately 1253 hours, Compton Station Deputy Hernandez (Unit 281D) was traveling west on Compton Boulevard toward Wilmington Avenue, in the City of Compton. Deputy Hernandez conducted a license plate check of a black, Toyota Camry (California license plate [redacted] via his mobile digital computer (MDC). The inquiry revealed the vehicle was wanted in connection with a carjacking that occurred on May 1, 2020. The carjacking suspect was described as a male Hispanic, armed with a semi-automatic firearm. After Deputy Hernandez confirmed the vehicle's license plate with the Sheriff's Communication Center (SCC), he initiated a pre-stop coordination with Compton Station units.

IAB Note: On May 1, 2020, a carjacking was reported to South Los Angeles Sheriff's Station, under URN 920-03529-0378-038 [MISCELLANEOUS DOCUMENTS].

IAB Note: A pre-stop coordination (Code 9) is a tactic that is employed prior to attempting a vehicle stop. A pre-stop coordination allows a deputy to coordinate a tactical response with assisting units.

Deputy Hernandez broadcasted he was Code 9 behind the suspect vehicle. He requested the assistance of two additional patrol units and an aero unit. Several Compton units, including Sergeant Leos (Unit 280S) responded to the Code 9 operation. Deputy Hernandez followed the suspect's vehicle south on Kemp Avenue toward West Laurel Street. The driver of the vehicle (later identified as Subject [redacted] accelerated and attempted to evade Deputy Hernandez. Deputy Hernandez activated his forward facing red light and siren and initiated a pursuit of the vehicle. Subject [redacted] continued south on Kemp Avenue and failed to stop at the posted stop sign at West Laurel Street. Subject [redacted] turned east onto West Laurel Street and traveled toward Wilmington Avenue. Subject [redacted] drove through the intersection, without stopping for a solid red signal light, at Wilmington Avenue. Subject [redacted] turned northeast on West Laurel Street and traveled north on Sherer Place. Subject [redacted] drove a short distance before he stopped his vehicle along the east curb line.

Subject [redacted] exited the vehicle from the driver's seat. Subject [redacted] ran north on Sherer Place toward West Almond Street. Simultaneously, a front and rear passenger exited the vehicle and ran north on Sherer Place, behind Subject [redacted] Deputy Hernandez broadcasted to responding units the description of the three males. Deputy Hernandez indicated all suspects appeared to be 18 years of age.

Sergeant Leos followed Subject [redacted] in his patrol vehicle while he (Subject [redacted] ran on Sherer Place. Subject [redacted] appeared to have a heavy object inside his pants pocket. Sergeant Leos saw Subject [redacted] reach into his pocket to secure the object as he ran. Subject [redacted] ran west on West Almond Street from Sherer Place. Subject [redacted] then ran south and entered the front yard of [redacted]. Sergeant Leos saw Subject [redacted] remove a black, semi-automatic handgun from his front pants pocket while he ran toward a block wall. Subject [redacted] maintained possession of the handgun as he jumped over the wall into the backyard of the residence.

Sergeant Leos broadcasted to responding units Subject [redacted] was armed with a handgun.

Compton Station units established a containment of the area surrounding Subject [redacted]s last known location. Shortly thereafter, Unit Air-7, Pilot Deputy Hughes and Tactical Flight Deputy Trejo arrived and provided air support. Unit Air-8, Pilot Deputy Weinmann and Tactical Flight Deputy Coberg arrived soon after and relieved Air-7. Deputy Hernandez requested CSD to assist with the search for Subject [redacted]. CSD Deputies Williams (Unit 240K94), Shockley (Unit 240K91), and Orlandos (Unit 240K9) responded to the incident. Upon arrival, CSD personnel were briefed by Deputy Hernandez. CSD personnel contacted SEB Sergeant Lee and provided details about the incident. Sergeant Lee, who was enroute to the scene, approved the deployment of a police service dog.

Prior to the deployment of the police service dog, Deputy Williams played pre-recorded canine announcements via his patrol vehicle's public address system, while he slowly drove throughout the contained area. The announcements warned any person hiding that a police service dog was going to be deployed. The announcements instructed any person hiding to surrender to the nearest deputy. The announcements also warned the suspect that he may be bitten by the canine. The announcements were played in English and Spanish for approximately 20 minutes.

Deputy Williams parked his vehicle in the driveway of [redacted]. Deputy Williams faced his public address speaker directly toward the backyard where Subject [redacted] was last seen. Deputy Williams played additional pre-recorded canine announcements. After receiving no response to the canine announcements, CSD formed a search team comprised of Deputies Williams, Shockley, Orlandos, and a police service dog.

The CSD team developed a tactical plan to search residences on West Almond Street. The CSD team started the search at [redacted] where Subject [redacted] was believed to have been last seen. After searching multiple properties on West Almond Street, the CSD team planned to search residences on West Laurel Street. Deputy Williams played pre-recorded canine announcements via his patrol vehicle's public address system while he drove to West Laurel Street. Deputy Williams parked his vehicle in front of [redacted] West Laurel Street and allowed the announcements to continue to play.

Once the CSD team reconvened, they continued their search, starting at [redacted] West Laurel Street. The search team contacted the homeowner, who consented to a search of his backyard. Deputy Williams led the search team with his canine, "Jack." The search team staged near the southwest corner of the residence. The CSD team opened the side gate which led to the backyard. Deputy Williams and his canine moved up to the threshold of the gate. Prior to deploying his canine, Deputy Williams made loud, verbal announcements, warning any person hiding a police service dog would be deployed to search the yard. Deputy Williams further warned any person hiding that he may be bitten by the canine. Deputy Williams told any person hiding the canine would not be deployed if he surrendered.

After receiving no response to the announcements, Deputy Williams directed his canine to search (off-leash) the backyard. The canine searched the south and west area of the backyard. Once the initial search was complete, Deputy Williams recalled his canine. The search team then entered the backyard and advanced along the west side of the residence. Deputy Williams directed his canine to search (off-leash) the north side of the backyard. Once deployed, the canine ran to the north side of the property and rounded the corner of the residence out of view. As the search team approached the northwest corner, Deputies Williams and Shockley heard the sound of metal against metal. Shortly thereafter, Subject [redacted] yelled to the deputies to remove the dog from him.

The search team tactically moved to the northwest corner of the residence. As the team moved, Deputy Williams ordered Subject [redacted] to show his hands. Once in position to see the north side of the property, Deputy Williams saw Subject [redacted] hiding underneath a tarp, bicycles, and clutter. Deputy Williams removed the tarp and other items from Subject [redacted]. Once the items were removed, Deputy Williams saw his canine had a bite hold of Subject [redacted]s right bicep. During the bite, Subject [redacted]s left hand was concealed between his body and the canine. Deputy Williams ordered Subject [redacted] to crawl out from under the clutter and to show his hands. Subject [redacted] slowly crawled out; however, his left hand remained concealed. Deputy Williams ordered Subject [redacted] to show his hands. Subject [redacted] extended his left hand out from under the canine. Once it was determined he was unarmed, Deputy Williams removed the canine from Subject [redacted]. Deputies Hernandez and Perez responded to the backyard and handcuffed Subject [redacted] without further incident.

The police service dog located Subject [redacted] approximately 15 feet away from the CSD search team's location. The canine bite lasted approximately 25 to 30 seconds. Subject [redacted] was located one property east and one property south from where he was last seen by deputy personnel. Deputy Hernandez and Sergeant Leos positively identified Subject [redacted] as the driver of the involved vehicle. Sergeant Leos positively identified Subject [redacted] as the individual he saw armed with the handgun.

Subject [redacted] suffered puncture wounds and rake marks to his right shoulder area from the canine bite. Subject [redacted] was treated at the scene by paramedics assigned to Compton Fire Engine #444, under the direction of Captain Delgado. Deputies Montoya and Rico (Unit 284D) transported Subject [redacted] to St. Francis Medical Center for further medical treatment. Subject [redacted] was subsequently admitted to the hospital for Rhabdomyolysis.
